

Weekly WIC Newsletter

August 13th, 2019

Great Beginnings Great Families Conference Today

This week is the Great Beginnings Great Families conference in Helena. Please be advised that much of the State staff will be unavailable during this time, and many clinics may be closed or operating with limited staff.

Perinatal Mental Health Conference

Please consider attending the Perinatal Mental Health Conference in Butte on November 8th & 9th, see save the date for some more detail. There will be several tracks and content very relevant to work we do in WIC. Registration is $175 for early bird, general public, but FREE for WIC staff. We are sponsoring a key note presentation on “breast is best vs. fed is best” in exchange for FREE registration.

New WIC Breastfeeding Surveillance Report

The 2016-2018 WIC Breastfeeding Surveillance Report is now available online. Please review this document and contact Chris Fogelman with any questions.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider.

Help us keep the distribution list updated—send email address changes, additions, and deletions to Kevin at the State WIC Office (406) 444-4746.

